Connecting a global community of critical care clinicians, SCCM serves as a leader in critical care best practices. With more than 16,000 members in over 100 countries, SCCM is the only multiprofessional organization dedicated exclusively to the advancement of critical care, education, research, and advocacy.

Membership gives you access to resources and activities that promote excellence in patient care and enhancing delivery of the right care at the right moment. To view information on SCCM’s vast array of educational and professional resources, networking opportunities, and ways to get involved with SCCM, visit sccm.org/MemberCenter.

Mission
The mission of the Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM) is to secure the highest-quality care for all critically ill and injured patients.

Envisioned Future
SCCM envisions a world in which all critically ill and injured people receive care from a present, integrated team of dedicated trained intensivists and critical care specialists. Multiprofessional teams use knowledge, technology, and compassion to provide timely, effective, safe, efficient, and equitable patient-centered care.

Together we can make a difference!
Connecting a global community of critical care clinicians, SCCM serves as a leader in critical care best practices. With more than 16,000 members in over 100 countries, SCCM is the only multiprofessional organization dedicated exclusively to the advancement of critical care, education, research, and advocacy.

Membership gives you access to resources and activities that promote excellence in patient care and enhancing delivery of the right care at the right moment. To view information on SCCM’s vast array of educational and professional resources, networking opportunities, and ways to get involved with SCCM, visit sccm.org/MemberCenter.

Mission
The mission of the Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM) is to secure the highest-quality care for all critically ill and injured patients.

Envisioned Future
SCCM envisions a world in which all critically ill and injured people receive care from a present, integrated team of dedicated trained intensivists and critical care specialists. Multiprofessional teams use knowledge, technology, and compassion to provide timely, effective, safe, efficient, and equitable patient-centered care.

Together we can make a difference!
I joined, and have been an active participant in the Society of Critical Care Medicine because of its multiprofessional, multidisciplinary nature. It is the only critical care organization that values every member of the team with equal weight. SCCM has really been a highlight of my professional life. It has provided me with an opportunity to work with some outstanding individuals from around the world, all with the same purpose. SCCM is singularly the best Society I’m involved with.

Pamela A. Lipsett, MD, MHPE, FCCM
2011-2012 President

The SCCM membership types are designed to meet individual member needs, regardless of your role in critical care. You may upgrade your membership at any time. Become part of a community committed to securing the highest-quality care for critically ill and injured patients.

To join SCCM today or for more information about SCCM membership, visit sccm.org/MemberCenter or call Customer Service at +1 847 827-6888.

Membership Types and Benefits

Associate Membership
- Discounts of up to 25% on SCCM educational programs and resources
- Subscription to Critical Connections, the only newsmagazine focused on critical care
- Online collaboration with other members through SCCM Connect and its knowledge education groups
- Membership in up to 3 specialty sections and ability to join a local chapter
- Free abstract submissions for Critical Care Congress®
- Access to member-only benefits in LearnICU, SCCM’s virtual library of critical care knowledge and resources

Professional Membership
Receive all benefits of Associate Membership, plus the following additional benefits:
- Subscription to Critical Care Medicine, the #1 critical care subspecialty journal, as well as full online access to the archives. (Pediatric Critical Care Medicine journal available with membership in Pediatrics Section)
- Free registration for all SCCM live webcasts
- Opportunities to get involved on committees in the Creative Community in Critical Care
- Eligibility to make motions, vote, and hold office
- Waived application fee to American College of Critical Care Medicine (ACCM), which honors those who have made outstanding contributions to critical care
- Eligibility to apply for grants and receive preferred awards

Select Membership
Receive all benefits of Associate and Professional Membership, plus the following additional benefits:
- Access to early registration and hotel reservations for SCCM events
- Entry to private lounge and invitation to exclusive events at annual Critical Care Congress
- Complimentary fellowship in ACCM for those who hold FCCM designation
- Complimentary access to all SCCM On Demand products and select ePublications
- Subscription to Critical Connections, Select Member Edition, an eNewsletter covering exclusive topics

SCCM offers an array of opportunities including involvement on committees, joining a local chapter, membership in specialty sections, and more. Take these opportunities to network and make a bigger impact in critical care.

“...I joined, and have been an active participant in the Society of Critical Care Medicine because of its multiprofessional, multidisciplinary nature. It is the only critical care organization that values every member of the team with equal weight. SCCM has really been a highlight of my professional life. It has provided me with an opportunity to work with some outstanding individuals from around the world, all with the same purpose. SCCM is singularly the best Society I’m involved with."

Pamela A. Lipsett, MD, MHPE, FCCM
2011-2012 President
I joined, and have been an active participant in the Society of Critical Care Medicine because of its multiprofessional, multidisciplinary nature. It is the only critical care organization that values every member of the team with equal weight. SCCM has really been a highlight of my professional life. It has provided me with an opportunity to work with some outstanding individuals from around the world, all with the same purpose. SCCM is singularly the best Society I’m involved with.

Pamela A. Lipsett, MD, MHPE, FCCM
2011-2012 President

The SCCM membership types are designed to meet individual member needs, regardless of your role in critical care. You may upgrade your membership at any time. Become part of a community committed to securing the highest-quality care for critically ill and injured patients.

To join SCCM today or for more information about SCCM membership, visit sccm.org/MemberCenter or call Customer Service at +1 847 827-6888.

SCCM members employed by industry are not eligible for the following member benefits: holding office, serving on select committees, serving as a faculty member or author, receiving select awards, or applying for grants.
I joined, and have been an active participant in the Society of Critical Care Medicine because of its multiprofessional, multidisciplinary nature. It is the only critical care organization that values every member of the team with equal weight. SCCM has really been a highlight of my professional life. It has provided me with an opportunity to work with some outstanding individuals from around the world, all with the same purpose. SCCM is singularly the best Society I'm involved with.

Pamela A. Lipsett, MD, MHPE, FCCM
2011-2012 President

Make the most of your SCCM membership by getting involved. SCCM offers an array of opportunities including involvement on committees, joining a local chapter, membership in specialty sections, and more. Take these opportunities to network and make a bigger impact in critical care.

To join SCCM today or for more information about SCCM membership, visit sccm.org/MemberCenter or call Customer Service at +1 847 827-6888.

The SCCM membership types are designed to meet individual member needs, regardless of your role in critical care. You may upgrade your membership at any time. Become part of a community committed to securing the highest-quality care for critically ill and injured patients.

For more information, visit sccm.org.
Connecting a global community of critical care clinicians, SCCM serves as a leader in critical care best practices. With more than 16,000 members in over 100 countries, SCCM is the only multiprofessional organization dedicated exclusively to the advancement of critical care, education, research, and advocacy.

Membership gives you access to resources and activities that promote excellence in patient care and enhancing delivery of the right care at the right moment. To view information on SCCM's vast array of educational and professional resources, networking opportunities, and ways to get involved with SCCM, visit sccm.org/MemberCenter.

Mission
The mission of the Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM) is to secure the highest-quality care for all critically ill and injured patients.

Envisioned Future
SCCM envisions a world in which all critically ill and injured people receive care from a present, integrated team of dedicated trained intensivists and critical care specialists. Multiprofessional teams use knowledge, technology, and compassion to provide timely, effective, safe, efficient, and equitable patient-centered care.

Together we can make a difference!

© 2019 Society of Critical Care Medicine
500 Midway Drive
Mount Prospect, IL 60056 USA
Main Telephone: +1 847 827-6869
Customer Service: +1 847 827-6888
Email: support@sccm.org
Website: sccm.org

The Society of Critical Care Medicine and SCCM are registered trademarks of the Society of Critical Care Medicine.